

cost. Truly, our veterans are the best of America.

In Congress, it is my privilege—and my responsibility—to stand up for those who have served our country in uniform, as well as to recognize these brave Americans. As a nation, we are indebted to them. On behalf of the 13th Congressional District, I thank James for his service to our nation and our community.

RECOGNIZING BLUE KNIGHTS PENNSYLVANIA CHAPTER IV

HON. DANIEL MEUSER

OF PENNSYLVANIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, November 17, 2020

Mr. MEUSER. Madam Speaker, it is with great pride that I rise today to recognize the Blue Knight's International Law Enforcement Motorcycle Club Pennsylvania Chapter IV.

The Blue Knights is a non-profit fraternal organization of active and retired law enforcement officers and veterans who enjoy riding motorcycles. A group of several law enforcement officers formed the first chapter of the Blue Knights in Bangor, Maine in 1974. Today they have over 600 chapters and nearly 20,000 members all over the world.

The Blue Knights are dedicated to developing a fraternal spirit among those in the law enforcement and veterans community who enjoy riding motorcycles. As a group, the Blue Knights engage in charitable activities such as supporting local law enforcement causes, honoring our veterans, and assisting children in need.

The Blue Knights Pennsylvania Chapter IV is very active in supporting the Berks community. Recently the Blue Knights held their 1st Annual Benefit Ride & Pig Roast, raising nearly $5,000 in support of the Berks County Sheriff's Office K-9 Unit. This Memorial Day, the Blue Knights also escorted 50,000 American flags that were distributed and placed on the graves of deceased veterans across Berks County. The Blue Knights are steadfast supporters of those who serve our communities and our nation.

Members of the Blue Knights have not only donned the uniform and served our communities and our nation themselves, but they also continue their service as good citizens in aiding law enforcement and veterans causes. Our community and our nation are better for their continued selfless service and dedication.

On behalf of the U.S. House of Representatives and the citizens of Pennsylvania's Ninth Congressional District, I ask my colleagues to join me in recognizing Pennsylvania Chapter IV of the Blue Knights and thank them for their continued service to our nation and our communities.

HONORING CAROL MARIN

HON. RAJA KRISHNAMOORTHY

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, November 17, 2020

Mr. KRISHNAMOORTHY. Madam Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Carol Marin and to honor her distinguished career in print and electronic journalism. Few reporters have done more to build public trust in the press than Carol Marin, and her lifetime commitment to unbiased, in-depth reporting has elevated public discourse and held public officials accountable to their constituents and to the principles of good government.

Born in Chicago, Carol spent her childhood in Rolling Meadows, Illinois, part of the 8th Congressional District that I represent. After graduating from the University of Illinois, she worked briefly as a high school English teacher before moving to Tennessee and beginning a career in journalism, first as a talk show host and reporter in Knoxville, and then as a news anchor and reporter in Nashville.

In 1978, Carol returned home to Chicago as a news anchor and reporter. She quickly established a reputation as a relentless investigative reporter, and demonstrated a deep commitment to the highest standards of integrity and journalistic excellence. In 1997, that commitment became a national news story when she resigned from her news anchor desk to protest the hiring of a controversial talk show host whose presence she believed would undermine her credibility as a journalist and the work of her newsroom. She moved on to national broadcast work, serving as a correspondent on the CBS Evening News and "60 Minutes," covering important stories, including reporting on the September 11 terror attacks while covered in ash from the collapse of the World Trade Center towers.

In 2002, Carol formed Marin Corp Productions, an independent documentary company providing content to media outlets including CNN and the New York Times/Discovery Channel. She also authored political commentary for the Chicago Sun-Times, and served as a contributor to Chicago Tonight, an award-winning nightly news show broadcast on WTTW, Chicago's public television station.

Carol Marin has been honored with almost every important award in broadcast journalism. She is the recipient of three George Foster Peabody Awards, two DuPont-Columbia Awards, a George Polk Award, two national Emmy Awards and at least 15 regional Emmy Awards. Carol has been inducted in the Chicago Journalism Hall of Fame, and the Silver Circle of the Chicago/Midwest chapter of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences.

Carol recently announced that she is stepping away from her work as a broadcast journalist after the November 2020 national elections. I am glad to note that she will continue to inspire and mentor the next generation of journalists as co-director of the Center for Journalism Integrity and Excellence at DePaul University in Chicago.

At a time when journalism is under relentless attack by forces that seek to undermine our democratic norms, I am honored to celebrate the career of a reporter who personifies honesty, integrity and a fearless willingness to speak truth to power. Carol Marin's passion for her life's work is best expressed by her own words: "There's a sense of mission for most of us in my business, a sense of purpose . . . the biggest lesson I have learned of all—every story, every day, every year that I do this—is that it is a privilege to be a reporter."

RECOGNIZING THE HONORABLE MARTIN FROST

HON. LLOYD DOGGETT

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, November 17, 2020

Mr. DOGGETT. Madam Speaker, I rise today to express my great admiration for a former colleague, and friend. Martin Frost, who always rose to the aid of those Texans he served so well for almost 30 years here in the House. He also ably led our party and our Caucus, serving as chair of the DCCC and the House Democratic Caucus.

Following his outstanding service in Washington, Martin Frost devoted much of his post-congressional life to the FMC, the Association of Former Members of Congress. This challenging year, 2020, brought to a conclusion his term as President of the FMC, after many years of serving in various leadership positions within it.

Many of my colleagues are familiar with the democracy building and civic education work the FMC conducts, including its outstanding Congressional Study Groups. Martin Frost provided the leadership for FMC to achieve incredible growth in all of these activities.

He was instrumental in strengthening FMC finances, for example, by creating and growing an Endowment Investment Fund. He greatly increased the number of actively involved Former Members from both sides of the aisle. And with his guidance, FMC now reaches a much greater number of students through the Congress-to-Campus program.

The extent of Martin's tremendous impact cannot be done real justice with these brief remarks, but I speak for everyone involved with FMC—its board of directors, its membership, and its staff—when I state that, thanks to Martin Frost, like every organization which he has led—FMC is better, more effective, and more impactful than it has ever been.

Especially during these divisive political times, when we need more bridges, not walls, Members like Martin Frost and organizations like FMC deserve our gratitude for attempting to bridge the political divide, serving as experts on Congress as an institution, and reconnecting citizens with their representative government, all in the service of strengthening our democracy.

Our political infrastructure, like our actual infrastructure, needs the attention and maintenance to keep our economy strong, our citizens safe and healthy, and to preserve our democracy. I am not planning to join Martin soon as an FMC member, but when I eventually do, I know that it will be a stronger organization because of his dedication. This is a
